Why the product is recalled: The rear trigger switch can fail to rebound after being pressed, which can cause the hedge trimmer to activate unexpectedly.

Hazard: There is a risk of serious injury including laceration if the hedge trimmer activates unexpectedly.

Action required:

Stop using the recalled hedge trimmer immediately.

Consumers should contact Chervon for a free repair of the rear trigger switch.

To organise the repair, you can:

- register your details via the EGO recall portal - <https://egopowerplus.com.au/recalls>
- phone Chervon on 1300 000 346 (select option 3) 9am to 5pm Monday to Friday
- email support@egopowerplus.com.au

Once registered, Chervon will contact consumers to direct them to the nearest repair agent to have their hedge trimmer repaired.

If you cannot return the unit to a repairer or have sold or gifted it to another person you should contact Chervon.
